

Electronic Communications Disclaimer

Effective Date: February 1, 2025

Empowered Youth Wellness, LLC (“we,” “our,” or “us”) values your privacy and strives to protect the integrity of all electronic communications. This Electronic Communications Disclaimer outlines important information regarding the use of email, contact forms, and other electronic communications on our website (empoweredyouthwellness.com).

1. No Guarantee of Confidentiality

While we take reasonable measures to protect the confidentiality of electronic communications, we cannot guarantee that such communications will be entirely secure or free from interception by third parties. By using our website’s contact forms, email, or other electronic methods, you acknowledge and accept these risks.

2. Intended Use

Electronic communications with us are intended for:

- General inquiries.
- Scheduling appointments or services.
- Providing non-sensitive information regarding our products or services.

Do not include sensitive personal, financial, or health-related information in electronic communications unless explicitly requested by us and submitted via secure channels.

3. Non-Binding Nature of Communications

Communications through email or contact forms are for informational purposes only and do not establish a formal business or professional relationship unless explicitly confirmed by us. For time-sensitive or critical issues, please contact us directly by phone at 877-493-6769.

4. Monitoring and Retention

We may monitor and retain electronic communications for training, quality assurance, and compliance purposes. By communicating with us electronically, you consent to such monitoring and retention as required by law or company policy.

5. Third-Party Services

We may use third-party email or communication platforms to facilitate electronic communications. While we strive to ensure these platforms are secure, we cannot guarantee their absolute security or reliability.

6. Limitation of Liability

We are not responsible for any loss, damage, or inconvenience arising from:

- Technical issues or delays in communication.
 - Unauthorized access to electronic communications.
 - Errors or omissions in electronic communications.
